

ENERGY REPORT April 2023 - AWAKENING TO A NEW LIFE

In some parts of the text, for obvious reasons, I do not write directly. To better illustrate some phenomena, I use the description of dual reality and the earthly calculation of time, although everything is happening non-dual in the now. Some phenomena are described in the simplest possible way so that they are understandable. I focus mainly on ascending line events. Those who have to understand the text will understand it easily. The text is worth reading with the heart.

For starters, a synthetic summary of March (and mid-February).

The past period was very dynamic in terms of processes and flowing energies. After a rather "bland" February, March gained a definite "expression". Practically the entire period from the last report was preparation for the entry of the highest vibrations in the period of March 20-23, the purpose of which was to open the most powerful process (since March 22) related to individual transitions to the 5D reality (I signaled this process in the previous report - I will also describe it in more detail below).

In the first part of this period (from 17.02 to 06.03) we could experience increased solar activity, which brought a number of very strong and cumulative flares, specifically 2 X-class flares (17.02 - X2.2 and 03.03 - X2.02) and eleven slightly weaker ones, but also strong M-class flares (20.02 M4.4, 21.02 M5.0, 22.02 M2.6, 23.02 M1.5, 24.02 M3.7, 25.02 M6.3, 28 M8.6, 01.03 M1.0, 02.03 M3.8, 04.03 M5.2, 05.03 M5.04, 06.06 M5.8). In the second part of the period in question (from 07.03 to 23.03, when the report is published), the activity even decreased to level A, and on average remained at level B and C (low and medium levels).

It was closely related to the processes that took place both in the collective field (first a strong cleansing of the collective mental space and the collective heart and - then - activation of new potentials) and individual (harmonization of new energies).

17.02 - 20.02 - at the individual level, very high energies flowed into human bodies causing the cleansing of the heart chakra, the entire main channel and preparation for the transmission of even higher energies. At the level of sensations, it was possible to feel strong vibrations in the heart chakra and the entire spine. They might have been felt even like shaking. On a physical level, they could cause insomnia. In the collective field, energy structures supporting the existing reality on all levels of existence were broken. So that in the future, based on this process, it would be possible to build new, constructive solutions. This process also brought very strong winds and gales to various parts of the world.

February 21 was a day of silence. With the beautiful energies of the heart chakra connecting people to higher dimensions. Here you could experience full fusion with the Divine Aspect of your Being, but also connect with the Higher Purpose of the Soul. These were strongly felt energies of the "New Earth". Such a prelude to anchor them from 22.03.

22.02 - 23.02 - another portion of energy releasing the patterns of the 3D Matrix from human bodies, which in turn caused a jump in the vibrations of the collective field. Our entire planet went through a similar process. Many people felt heavy and swollen legs that day.

24.02 - strong charging of cells in human bodies with life energy, which brought the first stage of formation of light bodies in some people. These were very pleasant subtle micro-vibrations throughout the body, combined with a subjectively felt greater vitality, lightness, liveliness. The slowdown of time (even its stopping) was also clearly felt. In many people, extrasensory capabilities and hidden potentials have also been activated. There was also an energy attack (technological disruption of the entire collective field).

25/02 - energy codes have flowed into space, activating the collective mental field to a higher level. This means that more and more people in the near future will stop operating from the ego-mind level and will enter the level of feeling the body (using the nomenclature of the psychological-energetic profile: they will be ready to act in accordance with their energy strategy). Thus, these people will cease to be energy givers for the falling lineage, they will also enter the potential of creation from the level of the heart.

26.02 - codes activating fully light bodies reached human bodies. In the first part of beings, this will manifest in the next few weeks.

From that day, continuously, every morning (practically until 12.03) I watched technological attempts to lower vibrations in people. Many people may have felt a sharp drop in power during this time, decreased energy levels, disturbances in the heart chakra (including palpitations, burning, other cardiac symptoms), headaches, lethargy, general breakdown and concentration problems, irritability, etc.

13.03-17.03 chaos part one. The descending energies brought on a collective level a lot of chaos and accelerated verification of what is still not working properly and needs to be changed. This translated into the individual level in people as the accumulation of a number of issues during these few days, which at the same time required taking care of them and settling them (urgent and often important topics). I also observed an increased failure rate of many devices (especially electricity and water). In general, this caused quite a lot of confusion and - for some - chaos in life. There was a noticeable acceleration of time. Many people during this period may have felt literally "exhausted" from dealing with additional topics.

18.03 brought calming after premature turbulence in energies and in action. That day, very high energies were felt, causing abnormal vitality, no need to sleep, full mental clarity, but also - if someone managed to fall asleep - very vivid dreams. The preparatory process for the transition on March 22 has begun.

This state of affairs was not to be enjoyed for long, as strong disturbances began in the afternoon of March 19 (Central European Time). First as an unpleasant pressure on the crown chakra and the third eye, then uncomfortable sensations in the lower chakras. These disruptions continued until 21.03, many people may have felt bad, powerless, irritable and even with symptoms of illness.

21.03 to 23.03 was a powerful transition time into 5D reality (I will expand on this later in this report). At the time of this report, the first part of the ascending line beings is already fully anchored in the higher fractal of reality. This means that from now on they have the ability to act from the level of an unconditionally open heart. Their actions are and will be a good reinforcement for others who still have this process ahead of them throughout 2023 and 2024 (this applies especially to beings from the midline). In space, there was a huge leap in the vibrations of the collective field.

24.03 - 31.03 chaos part two. During this period, it was possible and will be still possible to experience similar vibrations as in the period from 13.03 to 17.03 (report published on 23.03). There have also occurred and may still occur technical problems and failures of equipment, telecommunications, etc. The difference compared to the first period of chaos on March 13 - March 17 is that this time the actions taken are not activated by motivation "from the problem" and fear from the level of the lower chakras (the base chakra: survival, the second chakra - attachment to matter), but solved through the prism of the fourth chakra (creation towards the best solution) and motivation "to solve".

So much for the summary of the past period. Now I will move on to what awaits us energetically in April.

April is the base month that will bring the first effects of the transition process that took place on March 22, and whose flashes were visible in the energies from March 15. It is about the now open passage to the 5D reality (reality of the heart).

The reality of the heart causes creation from the inside (at the level of personal desires) to the outside (toward the manifestation of those desires). The "DO" - "To solve" motivation works here. Man is no longer motivated by fear of survival (base chakra) or desire to possess or fear of loss (sacral chakra), but enters the space of the pattern "I manifest my desires outside" (heart chakra).

For this reason, at the energy level, April will resemble nature waking up to life at an express pace. Everything that was anchored in the collective field and in individual bodies in March and previous months will find space for manifestation in April. I can literally say that in April people will finally awaken to life as free beings with the full power of creation from an unconditionally open heart.

This is possible because at the time of the transition on March 22nd and in the days leading up to this event, the incoming energies made it possible for each being to be fully cleansed of their karma on all levels and dimensions. Thus, each being now begins its own life without any burdens, but also with personal responsibility for the effects of its own creation. At the same time, this creation is possible from the level of an open heart.

Beings who do not have a heart chakra, or have been blocked by various types of activities (especially heavily promoted in the mainstream in the last three years), do not have access to the space of their own creation from the level of the heart and 5D reality. They still operate on the low vibration patterns of the base chakra or sacral chakra. Thus, they remain on a timeline anchored in the old 3D reality, which is heading towards entropy.

Entering the reality of the heart is entering a higher energetic fractal of consciousness and existence. A fractal is understood here as a self-repeating pattern containing lower-order fractals and at the same time being part of a higher-order fractal. Thus, the reality (fractal) of the 5D heart includes and contains the lower fractal, which is the reality of the 4D mind, and the even lower one, which is the fractal of the 3D reality (physical body).

A LITTLE DIGRESSION: From my observations, many people are still afraid of following themselves and their desires. They are afraid to leave what no longer serves them, but gives the illusion of a sense of security because it is known.

However, this fear is groundless, because the higher fractal contains all the potentials and existing resources that were available on the lower fractal (because the higher fractal includes the lower fractal). What's more: all the potentials and resources that were the "peak of possibilities" in the lower fractal, in the higher fractal are only the starting base and the initial state. It's like moving to a higher class and starting learning there and having the potential for new opportunities, but at the same time being able to do everything that the previous class ended up with. The final state of the lower fractal is thus guaranteed in the higher fractal. Simply put: following your own heart not only guarantees maintaining the current standard of living and being, but also creates space to significantly exceed this level.

Entering the creation of the heart opens up a space of new possibilities based on what has come before and gives access to higher, better levels of being. At the same time, it retains all existing potentials. Therefore, there is no way to follow your own heart and do a worse or less paid job or be in a less satisfying relationship, etc. Understanding this is crucial in order to enter these processes of change without fear.

If, on the other hand, in the coming weeks, despite the desire of the heart, a person will continue to maintain the status quo from the level of fear, then external circumstances will force specific situations to move towards the new, which does not necessarily have to be comfortable and in line with expectations. That is why it is even more worth taking care of taking matters into your own hands and creating reality in harmony with yourself.

Therefore, each new situation, although it causes knocking out of the comfort zone, is an opportunity for a creative solution from the heart. The key questions here are: "What do I want in this situation and where do I want to get to?" "What can I take the first step towards my desire?"

The transition process - although it is ultimately common for the entire collective - is individual in nature. It is the process of every single being in the midline or ascension line. It is literally waking up people from multi-incarnation hibernation to a new life. It reminds me of blooming flowers.

The above process at the collective level in April and the following months will cause a fundamental change in the distribution of energy in Space. Every being who enters the creation process from the level of the heart will transcend the dual reality. It will cease to be a counterbalance to low-vibration structures and a falling line. This will cause as early as April that the low-vibration side (falling line) will begin to collapse under its own weight (I signaled this process in several previous reports).

Therefore, April (like May and June) - at the collective level - will bring a lot of turbulence on the declining line. They will result from the rapid depletion of power supply there. Therefore, we should expect the next weeks of sudden events (further attempts to obtain additional energy generated from fear), internal jostling for energy, but also the usual disintegration of the existing low-vibration structures. It resembles old plaster peeling off the walls and revealing completely different, but beautiful and strong walls.

This time, however, any actions from the level of fear or intimidation will simply cease to bring any effects, because vibrationally fewer and fewer beings will verify this.

On a collective level, every being who chooses to follow their own heart will contribute to the creation of the "New Earth" vibration. This, in turn, will facilitate the transition to the 5D reality of subsequent beings.

At this point, Field is fully ready to be filled with completely new patterns of functioning - in accordance with the vibration of the heart. It will also support every being in its decisions and actions from this level. Even if the actions taken from the head level will seem irrational. However, it must be remembered that the mind functions in a 4D reality and it is a lower fractal than the vibration of the heart (5D reality), so it cannot see and does not have access to all the possibilities that the heart does.

The transition that took place on March 22, on a collective level, also opened access to new technologies for humanity, which until then had been beyond the reach of humans. This blockage was solely because using such technologies from the base chakra ("fight or flight, but do something to survive") or sacral chakra ("wish it or you may not have it") patterns could cause these technologies to would be used against humanity. April, on the other hand, initiates the process of access to new technologies.

Each subsequent person who, from April, chooses to live according to their own heart, will begin to co-create the collective field, which, after reaching a critical mass, will cause the manifestation of these technologies in the material space of the Earth. Access to them is now open.

Awareness of this fact is very important, because it is not only about free energy, but about breakthrough solutions in the field of human health, ecological regeneration of the planet, extraterrestrial travel technology and many others. In the coming years, it will bring rapid development of humanity and, consequently, opening up to other civilizations. The key here, however, is that the spiritual development of humanity (a sufficiently high level of consciousness) precedes these technologies.

Some of these technologies have been known on our planet for a long time (although they have been blocked and hidden from the public - these will be released), while some in technology and breakthrough solutions will only be "discovered". Or rather, it will be "dumped" into the minds of specific people who will pass it on as inventions or groundbreaking discoveries for humanity. An interesting process ahead. It is worth following this phenomenon and supporting it with your creation so that it can manifest itself faster in the space of our Planet.

(5)

The transition to 5D reality and the disappearance of the falling line is raising the vibration of all humanity. And it has - at the level of the entire planet - an impact on the crumbling of the artificially created Matrix of 3D time, which in the future (depending on the pace of transition of individual people to the 5D reality) will result in the literal emergence of the New Earth (mitigation and equalization of the climate on the entire globe, changed and more beneficial for health structure of the air, changed structure of solar radiation, lack of cataclysms caused by the elements, harmony of ecosystems, and many others).

And although it may sound like science fiction now, this scenario is ahead of us. What I wish for all of us.

SUMMARY OF THE REPORT AND JOINT ACTIONS FOR APRIL:

Goals for Individuals: (1) choose life actions based on heart desires, (2) withdraw one's attention from low-energy activities, situations, people, and places.

Goals for the Human Collective: (1) opening up to new technologies, (2) cooperation based on goals based on higher values.

With love - Anna Architektura

I also encourage you to familiarize yourself with the previous series of energy reports available at <https://architekturaosobowosci.com/> Not only do they carry information, but above all they anchor new energies in people and allow you to maintain a higher vibrational level.
